The gift of time

There once was a man who gave of his time for anyone who was in need. He would spend this time helping those who were less fortunate than himself. He would pay attention to everyone around him with his caring heart, and when he saw someone in need, he would do whatever he could to help.

Most of the people he helped responded with an overwhelming sense of gratitude, and some would respond with an entitlement attitude without any kind of thanks at all. No matter what the response the man received, he continued to help with a smile on his face and a kind heart. The man was never helping others for glory or praise, but instead he was working and looking for an opportunity to speak with them about the Lord Jesus Christ.

He wanted to help people in this life, but more importantly he wanted show them the way to eternal life with God. Working side by side with the less fortunate, and those in need, gave him the chance to share stories of the Bible, and how God changed the lives of those who put God first. Some people would just smile and nod while making comments of disbelief, and some seemed to get angry at what the man said, as if they were being attacked by the Bible itself, but every once in a while, he would have a response of “Tell me more”.

As Christians we should always be looking for opportunities to tell others the good news of the hope, we have in Jesus Christ the Son of God. John 3:16. This hope we have is not only a true blessing in the eternal life, but is also a blessing in this present life. It is our duty to be "Christ like" to tell others of the gospel with a cheerful heart. The Gospel should bring a smile to your face, and a tear of happiness to your eye, when talking to others about Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior. He is telling the Father about you. Matthew 10:32 "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven."

May we all do the will of the Father, and help those in need, knowing that above all people need the Gospel. The Gospel is the soul's vaccine for this life and the next with a 100% rate of working. "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell."

We should give help the lost and the weak. Sometimes the best gift you can give someone is your time.

"Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to bless you abundantly, so that in all things at all times, having all that you need, you will abound in every good work. As it is written: 'They have freely scattered their gifts to the poor; their righteousness endures forever.'" 2 Corinthians 9:7-9
