People Need the Lord

We are so blessed to have so many modern conveniences in our lives. We have become accustomed to a certain level of comfort and ease, and when those conveniences stop working, we quickly realize just how much we depend on them. Something as simple as a refrigerator, a washing machine, or even our cell phone can suddenly become very important when it no longer works the way it should.

This past week, the ice maker in my refrigerator stopped working. We all know the great significance and profound effect that having ice in one's cup can have! Knowing that the survival of the entire household was at stake, I immediately began troubleshooting.

I have very little knowledge about how my modern refrigerator works, but I knew the people who made it had a much greater understanding of how it was designed. So, I did what anyone who puts on their thinking cap would do I looked at the owner's manual.

As it turned out, the solution was much simpler than I expected. I only had to hold down a button for five seconds to turn the ice maker back on. Problem solved!

It made me think about how important it is to have instructions from the one who made something. I could have pushed buttons, guessed at the problem, or tried to figure it out on my own, but the maker already knew exactly what the refrigerator needed. All I had to do was follow the instructions. There is a lesson in that for us as well.

Christians are blessed to have an owner's manual for life the Bible, given to us by our Maker. God knows exactly how we were designed because He is the One who created us. Genesis 1:26 reminds us that we were made in the image and likeness of God. He knows our needs, our struggles, our weaknesses, and the purpose for which we were created.

The Bible tells us that in Christ “are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.” Colossians 2:3. What a blessing it is to have access to the wisdom of the One who knows us completely!

The world may search for answers in countless places, but there is a blessing that comes from knowing God's Word and following what He has instructed us to do. God's way is not meant to be confusing or impossible to understand. He has given us His Word so that we can know Him, understand His will, and learn how to live.

Think about it: if something isn't working properly, we naturally look for the instructions from the one who made it. We don't simply continue pushing buttons and hoping something changes. We go back to the manual. The same is true in our lives.

If we are trying to live without God, something is missing. We may have success, possessions, relationships, and all the comforts this world has to offer, but none of those things can take the place of Jesus Christ. He is not simply an addition to an already complete life. He is the source of the life we were created to have.

Jesus said in John 14:6, “I am the way, the truth, and the life.” There is no other way to the Father except through Him. That is why people need the Lord.

As Christians, we have been given something the world desperately needs the hope we have in Christ Jesus. We know the good news of the Gospel, and that message should never become something we keep to ourselves. The Gospel is not simply another message among all the other messages competing for our attention. It is the most important message we can share.

Romans 5:10 reminds us that we are reconciled to God through the death of His Son. What an incredible message of hope! People who are separated from God can be brought back to Him through Jesus Christ.

So perhaps the question for each of us is not simply, “Do I know the owner's manual?” The question is, “Am I following it?” And even more importantly, “What message am I sending as a Christian?”

Our lives are saying something every day. Through our words, our actions, our choices, and the way we treat others, we are showing the world something about the God we serve. People need the Lord. May our lives point them toward Him.
